MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF GUEST

General Kamal Gunaratne (Retd)
WWV RWP RSP USP ndc psc MPhil
Secretary, Ministry of Defence

It is with great pleasure I convey my warmest felicitations to the Officers of 35th Intake (Technical) and 36th Intake of General Sir John Kotelawala Defence University entry of Sri Lanka Navy on the occasion of their commissioning in which they formally integrate in to the victorious Sri Lanka Navy, geared to safeguard the sovereignty and territorial integrity of our beloved motherland. I consider it as a great opportunity and a privilege to witness this magnificent naval parade and to grace the ceremony as the Chief Guest to welcome these young ladies and gentlemen into Sri Lanka Navy; the first line of defence of the country.

Sri Lanka Navy, the ever conquering golden fence around the country, has moulded an enormous number of gallant Officers who fought fearlessly in the great endeavour of eradicating the ruthless terrorism from the country once and for all. Hence, it is the foremost expectation of the nation that these young Officers who are being commissioned today will follow the wake of their valiant predecessors and lead their subordinates meticulously at the face of difficult challenges and treat the men and women they command with fairness and compassion at all times.

Further to that, I wish to remind you of your obligation of gratitude to uphold the rich traditions unique to the Navy and urge you all to move forward honouring the highest standards of discipline in the discharge of duties entrusted to you. As the whole nation reserves its deepest admiration for those war heroes who sacrificed their life and limb to preserve the peace and stability of this great nation, it is reiterated that being descendants of those brave souls, therein lays a paramount responsibility on your shoulders to serve the nation with utmost honour and pride.

Most importantly, on this momentous occasion, I express my heartiest congratulations and earnest gratitude to the proud parents and guardians of these newly commissioned naval Officers. The pride they experience today is well deserved, and they have indeed embodied the resilience and generosity, enabling these young officers to fulfill their dream of becoming proud members of the Sri Lanka Navy.

I take this opportunity to extend my sincere gratitude to the Commander of the Navy for inviting me to grace this magnificent Commissioning Ceremony as the Chief Guest. Further, I extend my appreciation to the Vice Chancellor of General Sir John Kotelawala Defence University for moulding these young officers to the highest calling to serve the nation. I would also like to commend the Commandant, Naval and Maritime Academy and the Directing Staff for inculcating the brilliant ethos of the Sri Lanka Navy in these youngsters that have transformed them into responsible naval Officers destined to safeguard the future of our beloved nation.

I wish the newly commissioned naval officers all the success in their future endeavours...!

Congratulations...!

MESSAGE FROM THE GUEST OF HONOUR

Vice Admiral DNS Ulugetenne

RSP*, VSV, USP, ndc, psc,

The Commander of the Navy

I am delighted to pen this message of felicitation on the occasion of commissioning the officers of 35th intake (Technical) and 36th intake of General Sir John Kotelawala Defence University entry of Sri Lanka Navy. As the Commander of the Navy, I take much pride in witnessing this magnificent parade held in dignified sequence, having successfully completed the demanding training in full measure for another batch of naval officers.

For withstanding the test and proving your potential to proceed, today you will receive the commission and will be embraced by the golden echelon of naval officer family to serve the nation. I am sure, you possess the right attitude and aptitude to shoulder this noble duty and it makes me, and the nation proud of your achievement.

I would like to take this opportunity to pay tribute to the proud parents of newly commissioned officers for accepting their choice of career and encouraging them to join the Navy. I am sure their blessing would always keep their sons and daughters in good stead and drive these young trunks to success.

I would like to express my wholehearted gratitude to General Kamal Gunaratne (Retd) WWV, RWP, RSP, USP, Secretary to Ministry of Defence of Sri Lanka for accepting our invitation to grace this colourful event as the Chief Guest. I also express my appreciation to Vice Chancellor of General Sir John Kotelawala Defence University for transforming these youngsters to brave military souls and arming them with futuristic knowledge.

I wish to commend the Commandant and Directing Staff of Naval and Maritime Academy for the extraordinary professional training provided in keeping with highest naval traditions and standards in their original form which is the bedrock of Navies around the globe.

I wish you all fair winds and following seas with fathoms of water under your keels.

Exultant Sailing!

MESSAGE FROM THE COMMANDANT

Commodore KDDC Fernando

RSP, USP, rcds, MSc (DS) Mgt, MA in IS & S (UK), AFNI, JP (Whole Island)
The Commandant, Naval & Maritime Academy

It gives me an immense pleasure, as the Commandant of the Naval and Maritime Academy (NMA), to pen this congratulatory message for 11 Midshipmen of 35th Intake (Technical) and 25 Midshipmen of 36th Intake, Kotelawala Defence University (KDU), at their Passing out parade which marks the culmination of years' hard work and strenuous training. The impeccable turn out, smart drill and movements on parade sure to stand testimony to your dedication and commitment in training as well as the quality of training imparted by the faculty in line with the vision and mission of the Naval and Maritime Academy.

Today, it is with great pride that I announce your success and achievements during the course of training befitting you all and richly deserved to be commissioned as officers in the Sri Lanka Navy to become a part of naval fraternity, at this glittering ceremony, crossing the first milestone in your career.

Here, I would like to express my sincere gratitude and felicitation to the Chief Guest, General Kamal Gunaratne (Retd) WWV, RWP, RSP, USP, ndc, psc, MPhill, the Secretary Ministry of Defence for graciously accepting our invitation to be the chief guest to take the salute and review the colourful night passing out parade with a traditional Ceremonial sunset.

At the same time, I extend my sincere gratefulness to Vice Admiral Nishantha Ulugetenne, the Commander of the Navy for his presence as the Guest of Honour to witness the officers being passed out carrying gleaming swords with pride and honour. We are grateful to the Major General MP Peiris RWP, RSP, VSV, USP, ndc, psc, MPhil (Ind), PGDM, Vice Chancellor of Kotelawala Defence University for whom he has laid the foundation for their naval career.

We are a professional navy, silent but always in motion, with a proud history. NMA has produced great many leaders and you will benefit from their hard earned experiences when you deal with new challenges. As you move from here for your first appointment, I require you to apply what you have learnt from here; leadership, courage, compassion, commitment and above all the integrity. You carry enormous responsibility; well-being, welfare and future of the men you command.

Finally, I would like to congratulate for all officers passing out today and also the Award Winners for their excellent performances. Further, I felicitate proud parents of passing out officers for being a pillar of strength during their period of training and for your presence here today amidst much difficulties to witness the most important event of their naval career and, specially the moment their dreams comes true.

Congratulations!!! I am proud of you; We the faculty of NMA proud of you.

HISTORY OF THE NAVAL & MARITIME ACADEMY

The Naval and Maritime Academy (NMA) plays the most prominent role by imparting professional training for Officers and Senior / Junior ratings in the Sri Lanka Navy. The Academy is situated within the picturesque Naval Dockyard, Trincomalee. Trincomalee is considered as one of the best natural harbours in the world with rich history of maritime affiliation.

The origin of training in the Sri Lanka Navy dates back to 1951 when a humble beginning was made by then Royal Ceylon Navy by the establishment of a Recruit Training Centre at HMCyS Rangalla (named after Rahangala Hill) Diyatalawa. In 1965, a seaman training establishment was set up at HMCyS Parakrama, at that time in HMCyS Tissa, Trincomalee was providing the administrative support. Since then necessity of establishing a separate Training establishment for Navy was felt.

Commander MGS Perera
The Founding Father of NMA

The NMA was established at present location on 15th January 1967 and was subsequently commissioned on 15th July 1967 with Instructor Commander MGS Perera as the first Commandant who was also the main pillar behind establishment of the NMA as its proud founder father. With the establishment of NMA, Officer training which were then undertaken by the Britannia Royal Naval College Dartmouth, came within the ambit of the NMA.

The NMA has proved its mettle by training an umpteen number of Officers and Sailors to cater the needs of the Sri Lanka Navy and still it shoulders that endeavour, being unparalleled to any other training institutions. Apart from initial officer training for various entrants, the NMA today conducts Sub Lieutenant Technical Courses for Executive, Logistics, NPM, SBS, Provost and Marine branch officers. In addition to that NMA conducts training for other officer grades such as Direct Entry (Degree holders), Service Entry and Short Service commissioned schemes.

The Officer Cadet Entry scheme was accredited to the esteemed University of Kelaniya in the 2001 and in year 2011 onward NMA got accredited to Kotelawala Defence University while upgrading its training contents to meet the Naval & National demands. All Officer Under Trainees who undergo the stipulated programmes at present are conferred with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Naval and Maritime Studies, Naval Studies and Naval Logistics Management.

In the sense of preparing officers with required professionalism, The NMA has recently stepped into a new milestone by commencing four Executive Branch Long specialization courses. Prior to that Long Logistics Management Course was the first ever in house specialization course led to a MBA degree. To maintaining high standards in staff duties, the NMA conducts Junior Naval Staff Course regularly for junior officers. The training for naval ratings encompasses Phase III and advanced training courses comprised of branch training, specialization training, mechanical and technical training.

The NMA continues to strive and achieve international standards whilst holding the ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management System Certification awarded by the Sri Lanka Standards Institution in the year 2016. In recognition of the yeoman service rendered over the years, The NMA was awarded with the prestigious President Colours in 2003.

Therefore, the exact professional excellence of Naval and Maritime Academy is epitomized without a shadow of a doubt today. The motto, 'The disciplined are the noblest of men' is conceptually leading the institution to exact objectives. Accomplishments of Sri Lanka Navy over the past decades bear the testimony to the effective quality of training imparted by the Naval and Maritime Academy.
